Russian Author Refuses Nobel Literary Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Russian author Boris Pasternak turned down the $41,420 Nobel Literature Prize Wednesday. The writer who dared criticize life under Communist rule has been under almost ceaseless Soviet press attack since the prize was announced Saturday.

"Because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in I ought to say no thanks to the undeserved prize awarded me," he cabled. "Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will."

This cable to the Swedish Royal Academy was a switch for the 68-year-old author of the novel, "Doctor Zhivago." Last Saturday he had cabled the academy: "I'm immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed."

The attack on him was taken up Wednesday by a leader of the Soviet youth organization, Komsomol. He demanded that Pasternak get out of the Soviet Union because he has "defiled those by whose toil he lives and breathes."

Pasternak's book was ignored in the Soviet Union after its completion in 1956. It was rejected for publication there but he got into print in the West and is being widely read.

Not until the Nobel Literature Committee had announced last week that Pasternak was its 1958 winner was there any Soviet reaction.

Soviet newspapers charged that the award was a Western trick to fan the cold war, that political implications were involved. The Nobel Literature Committee was denounced.

Then the Nobel physics award was made Monday to three top Soviet scientists whose achievements in nuclear physics had awed Soviet pride.

This award put the Russians in an awkward position. Could they denounce the literature prize and accept proudly the physics prize? The answer from Moscow Wednesday was yes.

An article in the Communist newspaper Pravda, called the physics award fitting because it reflected the opinion of the scientific world.

Pontiff Directs Peace Appeal To World Leaders

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII Wednesday designated next Tuesday as his coronation day and called upon the world's leaders to channel man's genius into paths of peace.

The new spiritual sovereign of the Roman Catholic Church quickly demonstrated his intention of being a vigorous leader. In the first full days of his reign the 76-year-old pontiff took a series of decisions indicating his reign will be a dynamic one.

His decision to broadcast a peace appeal immediately came as a surprise to many Romans.

Then he decided that his coronation, the most colorful of all Roman Catholic ceremonies, will be held Nov. 4 rather than Nov. 9 as had been forecast in some quarters. This will be exactly a week after his election. It is the Feast Day of St. Charles Borromeo, whom the Pope long has admired. More than 50,000 persons will crowd St. Peter's Basilica for the ceremony, which likely will be televised to Europe.

In his speech Wednesday the Pope took up the cause of world tranquility championed nearly 20 years by Pius XII, his predecessor.

John XXIII, the former Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, voiced in Latin a challenge to the "leaders of all nations."

He told them their people do not ask for "those monstrous means of war discovered in our time, which can cause fraternal massacre and universal slaughter."

The people ask instead, he said, "peace in virtue in which the human family can live freely, flourish and prosper... tranquility and concord from which alone can rise a true prosperity."

Challenge To World Leaders

"Intricate Difficulties?"

Deploping the use of man's modern genius for "pernicious instruments of death and destruction," the new pontiff urged the world's leaders to find a way in which the wealth now poured into weapons of mass slaughter could be turned to the good of all people.

"We know, it is true," he said, "that in bringing about so laudable, so praiseworthy a proposition, and in leveling the differences, there are grave and intricate difficulties in the way; but these must be victoriously overcome, even if by force."

"This is, in fact, the most important undertaking, the most closely connected with the prosperity of all mankind."

Pope John showed no evidence of slackening the church's ceaseless battle with the forces of atheism, spearheaded by Communists, their ministries.

Ben-Gurion Assails Nasser Government

JERUSALEM, Israeli Section (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion Wednesday called President Nasser's regime the rule of "an outspoken Nazi-type party."

He was replying in Parliament to a Communist member's demand that Israel reverse its foreign policy that "is allying itself with the colonial powers and is directed against the liberation and unification movements of the Arab nations."

Colonization Of Planets Forecast By Space Panel

NEW YORK (AP) — Colonies of earthmen will occupy the moon, Mars and Venus.

Rockets will be burning their way toward the outer planets, more than three billion miles from earth.

Engineers will fashion huge space transports, capable of carrying hundreds, perhaps even thousands, of people on space expeditions that may last most of a life-time.

These are among the predictions for the next 25 years—the coming generation—made Wednesday by a panel of nine space experts in Astronautics, the journal of the American Rocket Society.

The experts were agreed that the earth would be ringed with satellites and space stations. Some would watch the great cloud masses that blanket the earth, aiding the prediction and control of local earth weather.

Three A-Shots Fired But Two Others Delayed

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI) — The United States fired its third test of the day — a fiery balloon shot 1500-feet over the Nevada desert Wednesday night—but failed in its pell-mell attempt to complete five nuclear tests in a single day.

The balloon shot "Santa Fe" was fired at 10 p.m. est well behind the original plan which called for detonation this morning. Two other tower shots, "Mazama" and "Humboldt" both were set off early Wednesday, although "Mazama" fell short of expectations with "essentially no nuclear yield."

The AEC said only "Santa Fe" had a yield of well below nominal, possibly in the 5 kiloton range.

Although the U.S. is seeking to end all tests before talks start Friday to ban nuclear testing, the AEC put off two tests — including its largest underground shot — until Thursday morning.

"Blanca," an underground device as powerful as that dropped on Hiroshima during World War II, was postponed until 9 a.m. est. Another balloon shot, also 1500 feet in the air, also is set for 9 a.m., but it was explained that it was virtually certain one or the other would be delayed.

This could mean "Blanca" will again be postponed, since AEC planning gives precedence to balloon shots.

The "Santa Fe" shot was clearly visible for miles and set off a purple glow.

Mother Slain By Friend's Son, 4

STRATFORD, N. Y. (AP) — A young mother, holding her three-month-old daughter on her lap, was shot to death Tuesday night, apparently by a friend's young son, the Fulton County sheriff's office said Wednesday.

Deputies said Mrs. Shirley Lewis, 20, of nearby Dolgeville, was struck in the head by a bullet from a 30-30 rifle. They said their investigation indicated that Mrs. Charles Jensen's 4-year-old son had been playing with a rifle and that it discharged accidentally.

Mrs. Jensen, in the room at the time, did not witness the shooting, deputies said. Mrs. Lewis' 2-year-old son also was in the kitchen.

A-Test Halt Up To Soviet, McCone Says

U.S. Will Continue Blasts If Russians Balk At Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Soviet Union sets off more nuclear weapons explosions after suspension talks start Friday, the United States will be ready in short order for more tests of its own.

The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, John A. McCone, gave a summary of the U.S. position Wednesday at his first news conference since taking over in July.

Small, Clean Bombs Aim

AEC doesn't believe in conducting tests just for the sake of conducting tests and it would not undertake to match the Russians shot for shot, McCone said. But if Moscow ignores President Eisenhower's proposal for a year's suspension while negotiations are tried, it wouldn't be long before the commission would be ready to go ahead with tests to improve U.S. atomic capabilities.

"Stopping tests now would probably delay or prevent development of small, clean weapons," he added. Development of such weapons, with fewer hazards of radiation and suitable for limited operations and defense against intercontinental missiles, is a prime military objective of the AEC.

Talks Open In Geneva

The United States, Britain and the U.S.S.R. start talking in Geneva Friday about agreement on a system for policing a ban on weapons tests. The United States and Britain have said they are willing to suspend testing immediately, if the Russians do likewise, while the negotiators have their chance.

McCone took little stock in stories that espionage has enabled the Russians to come up with what he conceded was reasonably precise information about the scale of recent U.S. tests in the Pacific. "It is very difficult to make a categorical statement that there is no espionage in any department," he said, "but I can think of a great many ways in which the information released by the Russians might have been obtained without a spy in the offices of the AEC."

Wigglesworth Named Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower picked Richard B. Wigglesworth, who is retiring as a Republican member of the House from Massachusetts, to be ambassador to Canada.

Wigglesworth, in Congress since 1929, succeeds Livingston T. Merchant, who is being reassigned as assistant secretary of state for European affairs. Merchant held that position before he went to Ottawa in 1956.

Eisenhower gave both Wigglesworth and Merchant recess appointments. Formal nominations will go to the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January.

The President also made these other recess appointments: C. Burke Elbrick, now assistant secretary of state for European affairs, to be ambassador to Portugal succeeding James C. H. Bonbright.

Bonbright is being reassigned as ambassador to Sweden in place of Francis White, who has resigned. Merchant, Elbrick and Bonbright are all career diplomats.

Priests Ban 'Begging' For UN Children Fund

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two Roman Catholic priests in suburban Waukesha County have banned parish youngsters from Halloween "begging" for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Both said they had acted "because 16 or more members of the U.N. International Children's Emergency Relief Fund organization are either convicted Reds or in some way affiliated with communism."

"We believe this is sufficient reason to stop the children from begging for this cause," said the Rev. Casimir Kuszewski of St. Theresa's Church at Eagle.

The other priest who has told parents they should not let their children assist the UNICEF collection is the Rev. Joseph Stier of St. Mary's Church in Pewaukee.

Pittsburgh TV Channel Probe To Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House influence investigating subcommittee announced Wednesday that it will resume hearings Nov. 12 on hearsay reports of bribery in the Federal Communications Commission's award of a Pittsburgh television channel.

A subcommittee spokesman said the investigators also will look into the activities of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Power Commission, and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The hearings will be the subcommittee's first public sessions since the resignation of former presidential assistant Sherman Adams, a leading target in the subcommittee's earlier investigation of Bernard Goldfine, gift-giving Boston textile tycoon.

In previous hearings last month, the subcommittee was told of reports and "rumors" that former FCC Chairman George McCone had solicited and received offers of more than a quarter million dollars in bribes for his vote in the Pittsburgh Channel 4 case.

McCone promptly denied to newsmen that he ever solicited a bribe. But a subcommittee staff investigator testified McCone had once told him of receiving an offer of a bribe.

The investigator charged that Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, were involved in behind-the-scenes activity.

Both Lawrence and Smathers denied doing anything improper.

McGonigle, Charging Libel, Sues Pearson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, filed a $300,000 libel suit in Federal Court here Wednesday against columnist Drew Pearson.

His complaint charged that Pearson libeled him in an Oct. 1 column about McGonigle's pretzel business. He said Pearson wrote that McGonigle was appointed receiver of Bachman Bakeries in Reading, Pa., in 1936 and sold it to himself at a fraction of its worth.

McGonigle said the Pearson statement was untrue and was "intended to defeat" him in the election Nov. 4.

He said the bakery was sold at a fair price to a New York corporation in which he had no interest. He said the sale was open to other bidders and had the approval of a Pennsylvania court.

Ike Plans Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is planning a meeting of the Colombo Pact nations at Seattle Nov. 10. The White House said Wednesday that no final decision has been made.

Ike To Weekend At His Pa. Farm, Vote On Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will vote at Gettysburg, Pa., next Tuesday after a long week end at his farm there, the White House said Wednesday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President planned to drive to Gettysburg Friday night from Baltimore where he will make a nationwide radio-television appeal on behalf of Republican candidates.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will stay at their farm until after they vote at a nearby rural polling place.

They probably will return to the White House Tuesday afternoon, Hagerty said, since the President plans to spend election night there.

Rebel 'Amazons' Win Cuba Battle

HAVANA (UPI) — Rebel women commandos fought a five-hour pitched battle with government soldiers Tuesday night, killing eleven, wounding six and taking six others prisoner, the rebel radio reported Wednesday.

The women fighters displayed "amazing courage" in their first appearance in Cuba's rebellion, the radio said, and finally forced the government troops to withdraw leaving their casualties behind them on the field of battle on the outskirts of Holguin in Oriente Province.

The radio identified the female commandos as the "Marina Grajales" unit and said it was commanded by Dr. Isabel Riego, a physician.

The radio admitted two rebel casualties but did not say whether they were male or female.

The Cuban army meanwhile swore in an additional 2,000 recruits as the rebels prepared for a supreme effort to paralyze land transport throughout Cuba to block successful balloting in general elections scheduled for next Monday.

Boy, 10, Shoots Neighbor Woman 'Just Like On TV'

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Kerry (Corky) Casey is a friendly, bright 10-year-old who isn't too old to play with a cuddlesome teddy bear.

He fondled one Wednesday—in the jail at this Denver suburb. A few hours earlier he calmly admitted he had shot and wounded a neighbor woman, Mrs. Shirley Orlofsky, 32, mother of three, as she walked home from a bus Tuesday night.

Bill Maraggos, sheriff's investigator, asked Corky why. "Saw 'em do it that way on TV," he said.

At Denver, Juvenile Court Judge Philip B. Gilliam said: "Kids get a constant diet of from her and fired it. She ran violence on television. Even toward her house, the boy in ones in Juvenile Hall—detention quarters—get the idea that the back as she ran up the steps and way to escape is to hit somebody on the head."

Flaming Crash Of Big Jet Kills Three Airmen

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI) — A six-jet RB 47 photo reconnaissance plane fell into a cotton field six miles southeast of here on Wednesday, killing the three crewmen aboard.

Officials of Little Rock Air Force Base, where the plane was based, said it was first believed four men were aboard the training flight. But a closer check of the badly-burned remains of the victims revealed that three men died.

Col. John Kunkel, commander of the 70th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing at the base, said a fourth man was originally scheduled to have been on the plane. But sickness prevented him from going on the flight.

The Air Force identified the dead as Capt. Walter Thomas Berninger, 36, the instructor-pilot of North Little Rock, Ark.; 1st Lt. Luther Edgar Connon, 30, the instructor-navigator of Jacksonville, Ark.; and Maj. Harry George Johnson, 38, student aircraft commander of Lake Charles, La.

The Stratojet burst into flames when it hit the ground on the Phillips cotton plantation. Witnesses said the craft fell "like a rock" rather than gliding to earth.

Debbie Reynolds Hospitalized

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — Debbie Reynolds, whose separation from singer Eddie Fisher ended an "ideal" Hollywood marriage, was hospitalized Wednesday suffering from exhaustion and acute abdominal pains.

The actress' doctor, Dr. Charles Levy, said Miss Reynolds would remain in St. Joseph's Hospital for at least two days for observation.

Miss Reynolds, still deeply upset over her separation from Fisher, was taken to the hospital by a friend, Camille Williams.

Men Trapped Six Days Ago In N.S. Shaft

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (UPI) — Workers broke through on Wednesday night to 12 trapped miners found alive six days after being entombed in a cave-in 13,000 feet from the mine entrance.

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — The faint cry came from men trapped 2½ miles inside a wrecked coal mine—"There are 12 of us here. Come and get us."

Mine rescue workers inched Wednesday night through 60 feet of debris trying to reach the 12 found entombed alive after all hope for them had been abandoned.

Perce Weatherbee, one of the rescue team, recognized the voice as his uncle's. "I asked him how many were in there and Gorley said there were 12 of them," Weatherbee recounted. "I asked, 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly.' Then he called out the names of the 12 men in there."

Dramatic Appeal Spurs Rescuers; Liquids Piped In

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (UPI) — Workers broke through on Wednesday night to 12 trapped miners found alive six days after being entombed in a cave-in 13,000 feet from the mine entrance.

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — The faint cry came from men trapped 2½ miles inside a wrecked coal mine—"There are 12 of us here. Come and get us."

Mine rescue workers inched Wednesday night through 60 feet of debris trying to reach the 12 found entombed alive after all hope for them had been abandoned.

Perce Weatherbee, one of the rescue team, recognized the voice as his uncle's. "I asked him how many were in there and Gorley said there were 12 of them," Weatherbee recounted. "I asked, 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly.' Then he called out the names of the 12 men in there."

Arrangements were made to send hot liquids through the tube to the trapped men.

Rescuers said they hoped sometime Wednesday night to be through the rock debris to the pocket where the 12 huddled.

Dr. J. G. B. Lynch, 74-year-old chief medical officer of the Dominion Coal Co., said the men were being given black coffee contained sugar and vitamins in small quantities. Solid food was withheld to avert food sickness in empty stomachs.

It was learned one man in the group, Joseph McDonald, had a broken leg.

Within 2½ hours after the coming-and-get-us message was heard, rescuers had crawled and scraped through 20 feet of rubble and had 40 feet to go.

One mine official said it was possible others may be alive. As the news spread through this tragedy-ridden town and hope was revived among families gathered at the pithead, two more bodies were brought out.

They raised the known death toll to 26. The miners were trapped by a tremendous underground upheaval that miners call a bump. Of the 174 in the mine, 81 reached safety.

Then rescuers began finding bodies by ones and twos. Last Sunday night one rescue chief said it appeared the men still trapped had no hope of being found alive. If not crushed by rockfalls that reduced 10-foot high passages to 10 inches, then mine gas spelled their doom, rescuers figured.

The score at dusk Wednesday was 26 known dead, 81 rescued, 12 still alive in the mine debris, 55 fate unknown.

The 12 were at a level that slants down 13,000 feet from the mine's entrance. The depth underground is about 4,000 feet. The level was one of the worst hit in the upheaval.

Men working at two lower levels 13,400 feet and 13,800 feet, were given up as lost a few days after the disaster.

Weatherbee was working Wednesday in the 13,000-foot level near a fall of stone when he broke through a rock layer.

He heard what he thought was a man's voice coming from the broken air line, the first clue to the good fortune of the group. The news was telephoned to the surface.

Engineer Blair Phillips, who was making tests for gas, also talked to Kempf.

By the time Weatherbee reached the surface, crowds were streaming to the pithead. Women ignored a pouring rain as they stood with nervously excited smiles, straining for more news.

Mrs. Kempf said she never lost faith that her husband would come out alive, but said she doesn't think Kempf will go back to the workings.

Trial Of 10 GI Scientists Has Hilarious Moments

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Two defense motions for a directed verdict, urged the military prosecutors to see that future witnesses young soldier-scientists at the Army Chemical Center went on trial before a special court martial on charges of disorderly conduct.

The Army rested its case after calling three state policemen and three civilians all of whom testified that a party at the nearby Otter Point Boat Club last Sept. 25 was boisterous and profane.

The charges grew out of a farewell party the accused and about 50 other soldiers threw for a departing comrade.

Five of those on trial, all privates or privates first class ranging in age from 19 to 24, are college graduate scientists assigned to research work in the highly secret Chemical Warfare Laboratories here.

The other five, not college graduates, are technicians who work in the same laboratory.

Not formally before the court is the more serious issue of whether some of the young draftees are being properly utilized in the Army's special program for enlisted scientific and professional personnel and whether Army discipline and regulation is suffering in the process.

The more serious aspects of the trial were buried several times today as defense witnesses and counsel caused the tiny, crowded courtroom to echo with uncurbed laughter.

The hilarity began when defense Attorney Hyman A. Pressman of Baltimore called 14-year-old Joan Teresa Smith who lives near the Otter Point Boat Club, a private club where the party was held. She popped into the tiny but crowded courtroom and asked brightly:

"Well, what do I do now?" After her testimony, Maj. William E. Reiber Jr., the court president, urged the military prosecutors to see that future witnesses young soldier-scientists at the Army Chemical Center went on trial before a special court martial on charges of disorderly conduct.

The spectators howled when Lt. Walter V. Ferris Jr. replied straight-faced:

"Sir, my understanding is that a civilian witness does not have to salute."

Miss Smith had been called to refute State Police testimony that the 10 defendants were profane and boisterous outside the boat club.

She testified she even sang along with the soldiers for a while as she watched from her house. At first she enjoyed the party, she said, but later the racket became so loud, she said, that she couldn't sleep.

Pressman earlier had accused the Army of having a "double standard of military justice" at the chemical center.

Bomb Injures 10 At Nicosia Airport

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — A small bomb apparently timed to go off while an RAF Comet jet transport was in flight blew up alongside the plane at Nicosia Airport Wednesday, injuring 10 persons.

The bomb went off as passengers were boarding the plane after a 90-minute delay in takeoff. It was the second incident of its kind in Cyprus in the past two weeks.

The bomb was concealed in one of the passenger's handbags. It apparently had been set to go off when the Comet was over the Mediterranean. But the flight was delayed from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Bridges Lashes Out At Demo Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) said Wednesday that Democrats "give comfort to the enemy" in campaign attacks on GOP foreign policy.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, mentioned no names in that part of his criticism.

The policy committee devoted the entire 17-page Oct. 30 issue of its publication, the Senate Republican Memo, to Bridges' blast. In it he assailed the Democrats as "the party of disunity," controlled by a radical wing, and appealed to voters to elect a Republican majority to Congress.

Meany Asserts Labor Political Activity At Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said Wednesday night organized labor is more active in politics than ever before, not to control the nation or guide it along the road to socialism but to win a better way of life.

"The labor movement," Meany said, "helped to win enactment of Social Security, unemployment insurance, slum clearance, bank deposit insurance and many other reforms, all of which were decried years ago as socialistic."

"Would anyone seriously consider abandoning these safeguards today? Have they injured, or have they reinforced, our free way of life?"

Meany, in remarks prepared for a nationwide radio broadcast, did not take sides between the Democrats and Republicans in next Tuesday's elections. Nor did he mention any candidates by name. But he seemed to be referring mostly to Republican campaigners when he said he wanted to "puncture the big labor political scare balloon of 1958."

"The hidden purpose behind this cry of socialism, and such phrases as leading America 'down the left lane,'" he said, "is to plant in the minds of the American people the idea that labor is pro-Communism."

"This is an unforgivable and completely unjustified trick."

Garrett County Leads In State-Owned Land

BALTIMORE (AP) — A preliminary report by the State Planning Commission shows Maryland agencies own more than 180,000 acres in the state.

The report is part of a larger study initiated last September when commission members learned no central record of state owned land existed.

The full study is expected to take many months and will also determine what land is available for new state facilities.

The preliminary report shows that Garrett leads all other counties and Baltimore City in state-owned land with 75,743 acres. More than 72,000 acres of this is forest land and not suitable for construction.

Baltimore, Howard and Anne Arundel counties have a total of 12,000 acres.

There are 33,250 acres in Allegany and 13,382 in Worcester counties, but in both cases forests occupy most of the land.

Crash Blame Admitted By Pilot Under Hypnosis

CHICAGO (UPI) — An airline pilot, deep in a hypnotic trance, revealed that he was to blame for a major plane crash because he did not understand his instruments.

The same pilot rejected a doctor's warning that he was afraid of heights and should give up flying.

A few months later, he was at the controls of a plane with 80 persons aboard which crashed. The pilot and all his passengers were killed.

The strange and dramatic journey into the pilot's subconscious was revealed for the first time Wednesday by Dr. Bernard B. Raginsky of Montreal, Canada, the president of the Society for Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis and past president of the American Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine.

Raginsky's tape recordings of what happened when he twice put the pilot under hypnosis have become the scientific sensation of the society's convention, which opened Wednesday.

The Canadian, regarded as the father of contemporary hypnosis in North America, refused to reveal the identity of the veteran pilot. He also refused to name the airlines involved or where the two crashes occurred, except to say that they happened on this continent.

The pilot was unable to recall the details of the first crash until Raginsky "split him off" under hypnosis. The pilot then thought he saw himself as "another pilot" in the moments before the crash. He realized that the "other pilot" was in trouble because he did not understand the workings of a new altimeter.

The plane crashed while making an approach to an airport. It came in 600 feet too low, crashed through trees, and rolled over when it hit the ground.

Everybody aboard escaped before the plane burst into flames. The cause of the crash was attributed to "fatigue and lack of alertness" by the pilot. The pilot, worried about his partial amnesia, sought medical help.

The first time Raginsky put the pilot under hypnosis, he still could not talk of the crash. But when Raginsky "split off" the pilot's personality, he was able to tell what happened for the first time.

Speaking of the "other pilot," the airman said "he is doing something wrong. He is staring at his instruments. He is doing it correctly but he is doing it incorrectly — because — what he is doing he thinks he is doing right."

"He went below, 1,600 feet, but he had to. He just kept going down. But he should have stopped."

Eisenhower, Nixon Swap Election Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon Wednesday exchanged views on how the Republicans will fare in the congressional and state elections next Tuesday.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported that the two GOP leaders talked by telephone for about 20 minutes. He declined to provide any information regarding their conclusions.

Both Eisenhower and Nixon have just returned to Washington after campaign tours.

France To Take Part In Common Market

PARIS (UPI)—France ended months of uncertainty Wednesday with an announcement that it would fulfill its obligations to the six-nation European Common Market going into effect next January.

The announcement eliminated a major threat to the effective operation of the trade zone designed to make the European market a vigorous competitor to the United States and Russia.

The projected plan coordinates the economies of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. It will eliminate tariff barriers between members and establish common trade duties between member nations and outside countries.

It had been feared for months that France, a key participant in the market, might not be able to enter fully into the plan because of its adverse financial and economic situation.

Pontiff's Health Robust, Sleeps Only 6 Hours Night

VENICE, Italy (AP)—The new Pope of the Roman Catholic Church sleeps only six hours a night and at nearly 77 enjoys robust health, his associates here said Wednesday.

"He is a hard worker," Msgr. Giuseppe Scarpa, archdeacon of St. Mark's Cathedral, said of Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, Archbishop of Venice who became Pope John XXIII Tuesday.

"He usually goes to bed at 10 p.m. and rises at 4 a.m. Msgr. Scarpa added. "He bears up well through his crowded working hours despite a maximum of six hours sleep."

"He is in robust health. I have never known him to be sick."

All Venice was rejoicing over news that the Canal City's patriarch has been elected pontiff.

The red cardinal biretta of the new Pope still hangs below a tapestry with his coat of arms in the fifth-floor studio of his apartments here.

His studio is the simple room of a scholar, loaded with books. Many are in French. He spent years in France.

Seeds vary widely in size. It takes 300,000 hemlock seeds to make a pound, but certain tropical coconuts may weigh 40 pounds apiece.

To the thinking people of Allegany County:

A clean sweep in Allegany County this year would be good for all the people.

For nearly forty years no local Democrat has been elected, and during the past fifteen or twenty years practically the same small group of Republican candidates in Allegany County have been elected to office.

We suggest that others, both Democrats and Republicans, should be given a chance, and the best way to start this is to elect the following nine Democratic local candidates:

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—When Kim Novak asked to be allowed to withdraw from the cast of "The Beach Boy," it wasn't as much of a problem as you might think. It's doubtful if Director Charles Vidor, who is scheduled to start "The List Story" for Columbia in January could have finished "Beach Boy" in time.

Kim had some very sound reasons for not wanting to do the picture as much as she would have liked to make film with Vidor. She told me she thought the character of the bad girl might have brought her to sell all his screen stories and then turn over what she received to the Motion Picture Country Home where he had been treated with such great care during his illness. "All the stories are to be sold except one," he wrote to Mary, "and that is 'The Hand of God,' my favorite. I want you to keep 40 per cent of that." Mary said of course she wouldn't keep any percentage—anything she realized would go to the home.

Mickey requested that no flowers be sent to his funeral. He asked instead that donations be given the home also.

I was interested to hear that Martin Jurov and Richard Shepherd had bought Richard Prather's paperback novels, "Shell Scott."

Stories of a Fictional Private Investigator.

The two young men who have moved to Paramount have announced "Barnum" as their first motion picture. Now they have acquired the "Shell Scott" stories, and they tell me that they can select one or take all of these exciting novels. It's too early to even think of casting, but they are looking around for just the right type.

The first American exhibition of Joan Markson's paintings are attracting much attention. She signs her paintings Giovanna. At her exhibit I had a chance to talk with her and she tells me she has painted since she was four years old. She is only 21 now.

She has been honored in Spain for her Blue Note in the Bull Ring, Manolete. I personally like Manza, in Capri making "For the First with the Red Fez and Moon Girl Time" with Zsa Zsa Gabor and better. She also has 12 sketches Kurt Kasznar. He writes, "Great of bullfights and five of the myth—news for me to find that 'The ology of Europa and the bull. But, stand their chatter I could hear I want to tell my friend Mike Con-my name again and again coupled nolly and some of the other news—with 'The Great Caruso'.

Maryland, Virginia Units Near Potomac Agreement

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland and Virginia commissions appear to be only a step away from final agreement on settlement of their Potomac River fishing dispute. After that it's up to the legislators.

Commissions from the two states meet in Washington Nov. 14.

Carlyle Barton Sr., head of the Maryland group, said Wednesday the commissions are "so close together there is no problem of agreement."

He said the next step after the Washington meeting probably will be to draft legislation for regulation of the Maryland-owned Potomac. Then the proposal goes to the legislatures, providing governor's of the two States approve.

Barton said if the legislatures approve, the result will be actually a treaty which must be passed upon by Congress. The Maryland attorney saw no problem in that quarter.

Scheduled to lunch with the commissions at the Decatur House Nov. 14 is Retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed who is serving as a special master in the dispute.

Barton said the commissions want to tell him "some of our problems." Barton noted that the commission have no real legal status since they were named by the governors.

The Maryland chairman said if the commissions can unanimously agree Nov. 14 the way will be cleared for a legislative draft.

The commissions were named after Maryland upset the Potomac River Compact of 1785 which gave Virginians equal fishing rights in the Potomac. Maryland complained Virginians were not observing conservation laws. Virginia went to the Supreme Court, which named Justice Reed a special master in the case.

Baltimore Moves Against BTC Boost

BALTIMORE (AP)—The City of Baltimore asked Circuit Court Wednesday to enjoin the Public Service Commission and Baltimore Transit Co. from continuing to authorize and collect a recent rate increase.

Circuit Judge Joseph L. Carter immediately signed an order for the PSC and BTC to appear Nov. 3 and show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

The rate increase that went into effect at midnight, Oct. 19, boosted the regular city fare on buses, streetcars and trackless trolleys from 20 cents to 25 cents cash or 22½ cents if tokens are bought.

Signed by Acting City Solicitor Jugo A. Ricciuti, the petition called the commission's action "arbitrary and capricious, and not within its statutory authority of jurisdiction."

Present rates also include a 30-cent fare for express or limited stop buses and a 20-cent fare for children 4 to 12.

Mental Hospital Conditions Hit

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore City grand jury said Wednesday in a special report that Spring Grove State Hospital was too overcrowded and was suffering from a shortage of doctors.

The interim report was released, the jury said, to stress the hospital's need before the next session of the General Assembly in January.

It said the doctors' staff has a total of 25, when 35 are needed. And the 22 registered nurses now there should be increased to the minimum requirement of 135, it said.

"The conditions under which these wretched deranged human beings are obliged to live are shocking beyond belief (54 elderly patients with only two toilets is an appalling example). The accommodations which we provide for criminals in the penitentiary are palatial in comparison," the report said.

"These people have committed no offense. They are not even the criminally insane. They are sick and helpless and doomed to remain forever in those nauseating surroundings, for no one could recover under such conditions."

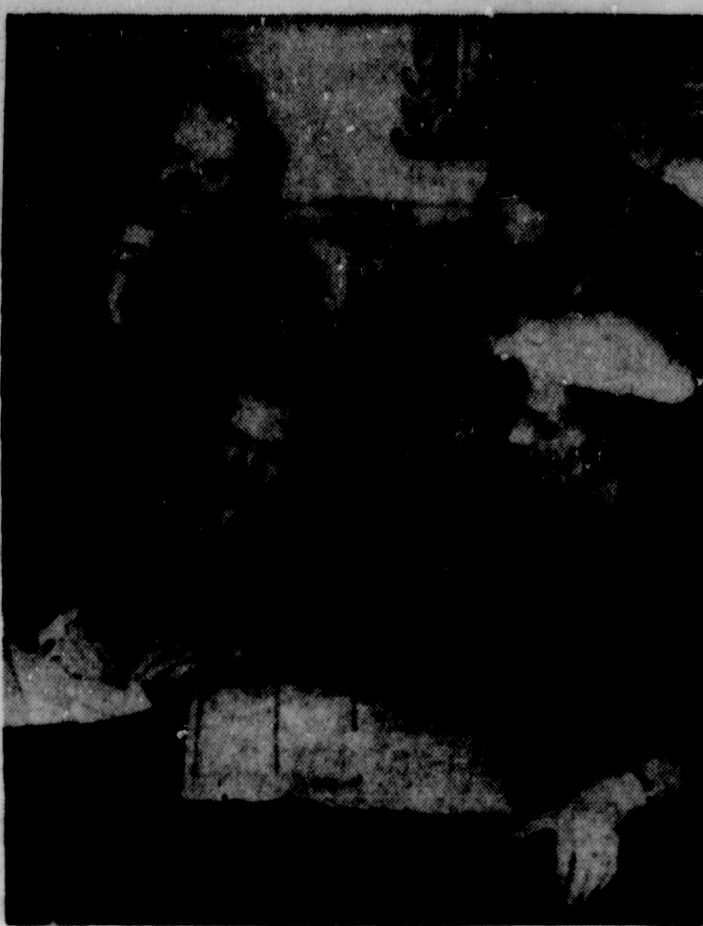

Trusting Soul

ABERDEEN, Idaho (AP)—Pharmacist J. T. Dvorak has a sign in front of his store inviting customers to take a Sunday newspaper and pay the next time they visit his drug store.

"There are instances when a person comes in two or three weeks after getting a paper and apologizes for being late," he said.

NAMED BY CHURCH

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) elected the Rev. A. C. Wilson, Beckley, W. Va., as first vice president at its 1958 assembly here.

EARLY VOTERS — Vice President Richard Nixon ends weeks of intensive campaigning by marking his ballot in next Tuesday's election. Mrs. Nixon, who also voted absentee, looks on with her ballot before her on the desk of the vice president's Capitol Hill office. Their home is in Whittier, Calif. (AP Photofax)

Seaman Baltimore's First '58 Polio Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—A merchant seaman who arrived in Baltimore Sept. 4 and left Sept. 21 died in Cuba late last month. The Baltimore City Health Department has recorded him as the city's first polio death of the year.

Dr. Robert E. Farber said that while the seaman, not identified, had not died here, he presumably contacted the disease while here. It was diagnosed as bulbar polio, the most severe form of the disease.

His was the 10th recording of the disease in the city this year.

Jobless Payments Drop In September

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Department of Employment Security said Wednesday it sent out less jobless checks during September than it did in August. Still, the amount was twice what it was for September of last year.

The department paid out $3,655,022 in regular unemployment insurance benefits to Marylanders last month, down 6.8 per cent from the $3,923,250 for August. But the September figure represented 102.4 per cent more than the $1,805,871 for September 1957.

Slots Removed From Casinos

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—An attorney said Wednesday that slot machines have been removed from the casinos on Potomac River piers.

Joseph D. Weiner, law partner of Paul Bailey who represents the slot machine operators, said the machines were removed Tuesday.

The wife of Chief Circuit Judge John B. Gray said her husband had signed a court order and mailed it to the clerk's office for execution a court order outlawing the slot machines on the Potomac and mailed it to the clerk's office for execution. However, it had not been received by the court clerk by noon today.

Gray is ill at his home.

Gray indicated that he would give the casino operators two days' grace to clear out their machines.

Weiner said it was virtually certain that the operators would appeal the Maryland law forbidding the casinos to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Three More Fined On 'Blue Law' Charge

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Three more persons were fined $5 each Wednesday for violation of the state's "Blue Law."

The three drug store employees were fined by Judge Benjamin A. Michaelson after being convicted by an Anne Arundel County Circuit Court jury. Twelve persons received the same fine Tuesday after a trial on similar charges by Judge Michaelson without a jury.

Seven other "Blue Law" defendants are scheduled for trial Thursday.

They were convicted of selling restricted items on Sunday, Sept. 28. Their cases came here on appeal from Ferndale Magistrate's Court where they had been convicted and fined.

SLIDE BEING CLEARED

WEIRTON, W. Va. (UPI) — State Road Commission crews worked Thursday to clear away a 15,000-ton earth slide from W. Va. 2 near here, but said it probably would be two more days before that section of road would be open. Southbound traffic has been detoured into Ohio and back into West Virginia via two bridges.

Lord Byron was a great admirer of Newfoundland dogs. He described them as having "beauty without vanity, strength without insolence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of man without his vices."

There are more ways than one to sing your own praises, but the music always sounds off-key.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Want To Be A Soloist? Sing Your Own Praises

If there's one song that will never make the hit parade, it's the words and tune of singing your own praises. It bears very little repetition. It's always a solo—even those who agree don't chime in.

Of course you don't sing your own praises. Or do you? It isn't always necessary to run through every note of the music to make it seem as if you were. What about the times you can't resist pointing out that you were responsible for a good deed? Have you ever let it go by when you were given credit for work well done, instead of mentioning others also involved? Do you always share the glory when you are head of a committee or of a project at the office?

Then how about grabbing the center of the stage in a discussion? Do you have so much to say that no one else has a chance to show how wise and well-informed he is? Do you act sometimes as if you couldn't imagine anyone else doing a certain job as well as you can? Or as if mistakes are made only by other people, not by you?

Self-promotion of many kinds is a form of patting yourself on the back, even though you don't come right out and say how wonderful you are. Don't be the gentle darling who is so modest she's never appreciated, but watch it when it comes to pointing out your virtues too clearly in any way, especially pointing them out too often. Sometimes it may be necessary to add a nudge in a situation where you should be given credit you deserve, but don't risk appearing to believe that you're always right and amazingly accomplished.

B&O Income Drop Reported

Operating revenues last month totaled $32,671,061, or $5,408,142, under that for September, 1957.

Net income for the first nine months of 1958 amounted to $12,695,535, down $5,312,743 from the total for the same period of 1957.

Garrett Co. Red Cross To Open Fund Campaign

Goal Of $4,800 Set By Chapter

OAKLAND—The Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced their fund campaign for the month of November. The 1958 campaign is being conducted this fall instead of previous campaigns in the spring. The reasons for a fall campaign are:

1. More favorable weather conditions for soliciting.
2. The Chapter needs money to carry out their '58 program.

The county has been divided into 17 districts, and a district chairman is being recruited for each district. The campaign will be conducted on district levels with each chairman responsible for whatever fund-raising procedure they wish to conduct in their area. A goal of $4,800 has been established by the Chapter. Fifty per cent of any money raised will remain in Garrett County to administer the various Red Cross activities.

It was pointed out that the burden of the blood donation program on the Garrett County Chapter has made it more necessary than ever for people to contribute generously. James A. McHenry is county fund chairman.

PSC Students Apologize At Shepherd

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Representatives from Potomac State were at a special assembly of Shepherd College Wednesday to make amends for an incident occurring Oct. 9, two days before the bitter rivals played a football game.

The program was highlighted by the presentation of a $250 check by Potomac sophomore William McPherson of Parkersburg to Shepherd President Oliver S. Ikenberry.

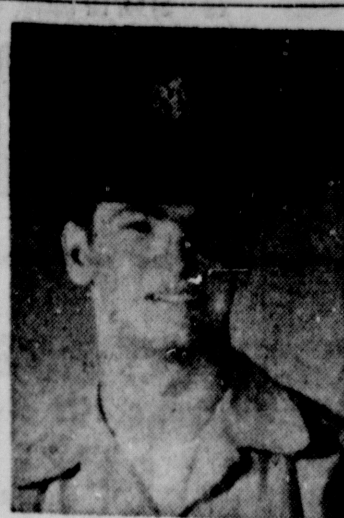

The money was to help defray expenses incurred in cleaning up the Shepherd campus.

Ikenberry and Shepherd students were up in arms the morning of Oct. 10 when they found that some "artists" had taken white wash and painted pro-Potomac signs on several buildings. One day later the two teams were to play on the gridiron at Keyser.

Potomac President E. E. Church was asked to investigate and found out who the 25 "artists" were. They were "fined" $10 each and ordered to appear at Shepherd to apologize. McPherson was chosen as the group's spokesman.

He was accompanied by Church, Potomac student president Ronald Lawman of Clarksburg and athletic director Dana G. Lough.

Incidentally, Shepherd almost returned the whitewash at Keyser. The Rams beat Potomac 26-7.

ASSIGNED — Airman David E. Baker, son of Harry E. Baker of 9 Williams Street, Ridgeley, W. Va., has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He has been selected to attend the technical training school for Personnel Specialists at Lackland. Airman Baker is a graduate of Ridgeley High School.

Bloodmobile Will Visit Lonaconing

Donors Needed On Election Day

LONACONING—The Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit will visit Midland, Lonaconing and Barton area on Tuesday, November 4. The Unit will be set up in operation at the VFW home at Lonaconing to receive blood from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

It was because of renewed interest in this free blood program that this particular area exceeded its quota by 13 pints, on the last regular visit of the Bloodmobile Unit on May 6, 1958.

With a total of 113 pints, it was the second highest record of giving in the history of the free blood program in the Barton, Lonaconing and Midland area. The record is 131 pints given several years ago.

The unit being here on Election Day gives people out to vote the opportunity to cast their ballot and then visit the Bloodmobile Unit to be a blood donor, Red Cross sponsors said.

Father Leslie E. Schwindt, chairman of the local blood program, feels confident that those who gave blood will give again on Tuesday, November 4. He said, "Blood donors give because it is their nature to give of themselves in order to help others."

Many who have not given before are being contacted in an effort to recruit new blood donors on November 4. Replacement of blood by relatives and families is urged, giving the name of the person to whom it is to be credited. Walk-ins will be welcome.

Appointments may be made by telephoning HO 3-2739 for transportation until noon on Tuesday, November 4. Call VFW home HO 3-4972 on Tuesday afternoon and a car will be sent.

Pendleton County Schools Enrollment On Decline

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — Enrollment in Pendleton county schools decreased again this year for the fifth successive time.

Total enrollment in 14 schools in operation in the county during the first month of the school term was 1,970. This is a drop of 36 from last year's 2,006, and it is 185 less than the enrollment five years ago when it stood at 2,155.

However, one of the schools now in use was not in operation during the first month of the term. Shreve School, which was not open during the first month, now has 12 pupils. The number now attending this school brings the total enrollment in the county up to 1,982 which is still 24 less than last year's attendance.

The number of schools also continues on the decrease. Last year there were 16, and this year, as a result of the discontinuance of Mallow School, there are 15.

Of the 1,982 now enrolled in county schools, 503 are in high schools, and 1,485 in elementary schools.

High school enrollment consists of 357 at Franklin and 146 at Circleville.

The largest school this year is Franklin Grade with an enrollment of 478. This compares with Shreve, smallest school in the county, which has an enrollment of 12. The second largest elementary school is at Circleville where the enrollment stands at 201.

Although fewer pupils are going to school in the county this year than last, enrollment has increased in at least three schools. This is partly caused by the discontinuance of Mallow School, resulting in those students going to other schools.

Schools showing an increase over last year with their enrollment figures for the two years, with last year's enrollment in parenthesis, are as follows:

Dixie 106 (93), Seneca Rocks 122 (121) and Upper Tract 155 (149).

Other schools with their enrollment for the two years, with last year's in parenthesis, are as follows: Borror 15 (16), Brandywine 131 (133), Circleville 201 (202), Franklin 478 (482), Onego 29 (41), Hunting Ground 18 (26), Palestine 22 (23), Shreve 12 (18), Schmucker 61 (67), Sugar Grove 107 (120).

China Reds' Coastal Guns Fall Silent

TAIPEI (AP) — Communist coastal guns went silent at nightfall Wednesday after shelling Quemoy lightly through the day.

Nationalists reported only 409 shells during Wednesday.

The Defense Ministry called the shelling inconsequential, and the crisis in the Formosa Strait appeared to be abating.

The light shelling came in spite of the fact it was an odd-numbered day of the month, or a day for shooting, in the peculiar shoot-every-other-day timetable.

The Reds Saturday said they would not shell Quemoy landing areas on even-numbered days.

Narcotics Case Is Argued In Keyser Court

Judge Ernest A. See heard arguments yesterday in Mineral County Court at Keyser on a motion to quash indictments against a Keyser physician and man charged with narcotics law violations.

Judge See took the matter under advisement. Dr. William A. Flick, a physician, and John Pollack were indicted by the grand jury.

Attorney H. G. Shores, who represents Dr. Flick, told the judge the indictment was faulty, as did Attorneys H. Howard Rogers and Reeves Taylor, who were appointed by the court to defend Pollack.

Dr. Flick was indicted on two counts of unlawfully and feloniously prescribing narcotics for Pollack. Pollack was indicted on 21 counts of either fraudulently obtaining narcotics or forging prescription blanks to obtain them.

In other court action, Earl Edward Carver, 21, of Ridgeley, entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering and was paroled by Judge See. The man was represented by Attorney John Hamilton, who was appointed as defense counsel by the court.

New Conservation Stamp Honors 'Teddy' Roosevelt

The first commemorative forest conservation postal stamp ever issued went on sale this week to mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of former President Theodore Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt established the national forest system and was one of the nation's earliest conservationists. The stamp also serves to salute the many private and public organizations and agencies which have contributed to progress in forest conservation.

The new four-cent stamp depicts a forest scene. Framing the foreground are two pine trees, a low-cut stump and healthy reproduction, wildlife on a lake shore bordered with hardwoods, and in the background a forest-protected watershed.

The first day of issue was Monday at Tucson, Arizona. Ceremonies in connection with the release of the stamp highlighted the opening of the American Forestry Association's 83d annual convention.

Postmaster General Summer-

field participated in the program. Rudolph Wendelin, Department of Agriculture staff artist assigned to the Forest Service, executed the original art.

Those Arabian Oliver Twists

They not only want more, but are undoubtedly going to get more for their oil—indeed, are beginning to get it. For one thing, the oil-producing states of the Middle East are presenting a united front in their demands. They talk over their joint campaign for higher oil revenues with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic in Cairo on Saturday.

The united front takes in the non-Arab states in the Middle East, too. This means that Western oil companies can no longer play off one Middle East state against another. Iran came a cropper in nationalizing its oil in 1951 because the West then managed to wangle more oil from other Middle East states.

Until recently the contract arrangements provided regularly for a 50-50 split of profits. Now the Arab states argue that this was fair only for that earlier period. Then the oil reserves and the producing costs were uncertain, so that the companies were taking some risks. But all that, say the Arabs, is a thing of the past.

So for the future, gentlemen, how about a 75-for-us, 25-for-you arrangement? An Italian combine signed one such with National Iranian last year and Standard of Indiana, though it recently rejected one, did sign a 75-25 contract earlier this year. And the oil states now demand a share in the refining and distributing profits as well as in the producing profits.

Well, oil in the Middle East, where vast pools have been trapped near the earth's surface, can be produced more easily and cheaply than anywhere else in the world. And, as the Middle East oil states realize all too well, Europe can buy oil from the New World only by the dollar currency of which Europe has too little for comfort.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Our Universities

The role of our universities in developing services to the country is often neglected in the broader discussion of why freshmen cannot spell and seniors do not think. After seeing a flock of young ladies who have majored in this or that and none of whom have any clear concept of why they went to college, it is some satisfaction to have a look at the enormous services of the major universities in the broader fields of knowledge.

I happened to be glancing through the record of George B. Pegram, Dean of the Graduate Faculties of Columbia University. Dean Pegram died last summer and, of course, that event did not make much noise, hardly as much as the passing of a belated auto-racer, but in the history of the development of the use of atomic energy, the role played by Dean Pegram is extraordinarily significant.

He made the first contact with the United States Government in March 1939 which eventually resulted in the establishment of the Manhattan Project which produced the atom bomb. It was under his direction that early in 1939, Dr. John R. Dunning and Dr. Enrico Fermi of the Columbia Physics Department planned to demonstrate the energy released by uranium fission. This was done on January 25, 1939 by the creation of 100,000,000 electron volts from a shattered atom on Columbia University's cyclotron.

The date is significant because this was done before there was any World War II, purely as a scientific experiment. In fact, Dean Pegram notified the Navy that this had been done at Columbia and the reason that he notified the Navy is that it occurred to him that these scientists had probably found the answer to the fuel problem of submarines. He wrote: "The space problem might be licked by the use of atomic energy, and this fuel would not require oxygen."

Later that year, Alexander Sachs, who was then an economist in Wall Street and a brilliant mathematician, went to President Roosevelt with a letter from Albert Einstein to explain to the President the significance of nuclear physics. The President became immensely interested and appointed an Advisory Committee on Uranium with Dr. Pegram as chairman. This became the famous S-1 Committee which served throughout the war to advise the government and from which the Manhattan Project received its scientific impetus.

Before this country went to war, Dean Pegram went to England to see whether the atom bomb could be developed there. He returned to this country, convinced that it had to be an American job. At Columbia, apart from Pegram, Dunning and Urey, Fermi, Szilard, Anderson, Zinn, Weil, Feld and others were already at work on this and other scientific projects which in time were translated into instruments for the defense of the United States.

Work similar to this is going on in universities all the time by unpublicized scholars who do not ask for much return from anyone for the wonderful work they are doing. They do not receive great salaries. They do not sport wealth in the night clubs of big cities. Occasionally one such will get a Nobel Prize or an honorary degree and his picture will be printed in a newspaper, but generally such men seek no great honors or rewards. Their accomplishments are written in the history of the human race.

In the United States where the possession of money used to be the mark of success, more and more, we are turning to those who possess great talent and whose services are not measurable in money. Nobody, for instance, can measure the worth of the life of Dean Pegram of whom it can be said that he brought together a galaxy of scientists and made it possible for our nation to avail itself of their services. Many of them are not now at Columbia but have gone to other universities or are working for the government.

America's search for talent must give us altogether different values in appraising human beings and perhaps in rewarding them. The scientists who in 1939 thought that they had discovered a fuel for a submarine could not have appreciated that by 1958, their ideas would prove so correct that the "Nautilus" went under the ice-cap at the North Pole in one of the most amazing voyages of exploration in human history. These are the heroes of American life in our times.

What Kind Of Deal For Nasser And Kremlin?

WASHINGTON

By Joseph Alsop

A secret understanding about Soviet and Egyptian spheres of influence in the Middle East most probably lies behind the Kremlin's recently announced loan of $100,000,000 to Egypt to finance the Aswan Dam.

The wisest experts here are unanimous in pretty strongly suspecting the existence of such a Soviet-Egyptian spheres-of-influence deal. If they are correct, the new development in the Middle East is likely to effect us all rather more in the end than anything that happens in the present strange election.

But before examining the new development's significance, the reasons for strongly suspecting such a deal must first be given. They lie chiefly in Iraq, where the Kremlin is well on the way towards establishing a main base in the Arab land. The turning point, here, was the abrupt demotion and final exile of the Iraqi revolution's number two leader, Col. Abdul Salam Mohammed Aref.

After the fall of the pro-Western government in Iraq, a conflict at once began there between the 100 per cent pro-Nasser group, then headed by Col. Aref, and a more "independent-minded" group headed by Col. Aref's chief and partner, Brig. Gen. Karim Kassem. The Communist and Nasserite undergrounds had collaborated in the revolution. Both were represented in the resulting government—the Communists, by the new Minister of Development, Ibrahim Kubba, for one.

Now the real question was which would be master. Gen. Kassem is mostly emphatically not a Communist. But his "independent-mindedness" was and is vigorously encouraged and supported by the Communists.

The Nasserites seem to have been very confident of victory at the outset. The Egyptian Embassy even pressed the Iraqi government to agree that Egypt would represent Iraq in all negotiations for arms for the Iraqi Army with nations of the Soviet bloc. But quite probably because Gen. Kassem was naturally stronger than Col. Aref, the Nasserites were severely defeated in the end.

Col. Aref was demoted in mid-September and ordered into comfortable exile, as Ambassador to Bonn, by the end of the month. Direct negotiations for Soviet arms were opened by the Iraqis—thus shattering Nasser's former cherished monopoly as the exclusive representative of all Arab nationalists in all dealings of this sort. The influence of other Nasserite ministers at Baghdad obviously declined, to the point where further dismissals are now possible. Hard-core Communists who had hurriedly returned from exile, like the famous Kurdish leader, Mullah Mustafa Barzani, began to play a more and more conspicuous role in Iraq.

Not long after Aref's final fall, the Egyptian Army commander, Gen. Abdul Hakim Amer, left for Prague and Moscow. Gen. Amer, who is also Nasser's preferred confidential agent, reached Moscow on Oct. 19, and carried on negotiations with the Kremlin until just the other day, when the big Soviet loan for the Aswan Dam was announced. In view of past Soviet refusals to have anything to do with the You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

The town council of Uplie, France, has fired its mayor after finding him guilty of "administrative idleness." In other words, he was just a high class loafer.

Junior observed International Letter Writing Week by sending a pre-season note to Santa Claus at the North Pole—natch!

Wealthy Britons are often sloppily dressed, reports London's Wholesale Textile association. Sort of "seedy splendor."

Since it was opened to the public more than 32 million people have gone to the top of the towering obelisk. So it's not surprising that in that period the Monument has settled a full six inches.

A Londoner has been arrested 83 times for stealing candlesticks. Obviously one of the light-fingered gentry.

These days things must seem pretty quiet for the New Orleans Sportsmen's league. The boys have just concluded their annual duck-calling contest.

When a fellow employee was fired for passing around football pool slips on company time, 50 Chesterfield, England, glass factory workers staged a strike. Probably figured the boss was guilty of unnecessary roughness.

Teen-Agers' Growth Patterns Vary Greatly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The mother of a tall college freshman told me her son grew 9 inches during his 13th year. He is 6 feet and by far the tallest member of the family.

I have known other boys who sprout earlier or later and some who grow gradually at the rate of 1 or 2 inches during each year of adolescence. The parents of children who are retarded in height worry most. Many make an issue of it by dragging the child to a physician to find out why.

Usually father and mother are impatient and do not give nature a chance to complete her product. In others, the answer is obvious: the parents are short and it is too late to change the mold.

Do not discuss the situation in front of the youngster. Make an appointment for a physical examination and explain the problem to the physician over the phone. If the child is otherwise healthy, the medico is likely to tell the parents to forget it.

There is no easy or practical way to make a person grow, even though reports appear from time to time on the use of growth hormones and vitamins. In addition, what difference does it make whether a person is tall or short? Proof is lacking that height is associated with vigor, productivity, fatigue, and resistance to emotional and physical illness.

A combination of sex hormones and thyroid extract is employed in small, underdeveloped boys and girls when the physician has reason to believe they are destined to become taller. A growth hormone is used occasionally. Niveaur, a protein tissue builder, also enhances the rate of growth, but is not given unless bone studies show that body growth has lagged considerably behind the usual rate for children that age.

Altering growth is no job for the amateur. It should be done only by physicians who are acquainted with these products.

FAINTING
W. D. writes: Can blackouts be due to a heart condition even though numerous electrocardiograms are normal?

REPLY
Yes. Not all of the heart conditions that lead to blackouts can be diagnosed by electrocardiograms. Certain heart blocks tend to come and go and they cannot be detected unless the electrocardiogram is attached a moment or two before the blackout occurs. Furthermore, fainting has many origins, the least common of which is heart disease.

SMOKING AND LEG PAINS

scared within an inch of his life, resorted to prayer. "Save us," he implored, "and I vow to give up smoking, drinking, gambling—"

"Don't go too far," interrupted his bride hastily. "I think I hear a motorboat coming to rescue us."

Wyoming Senator Used Influence To Compromise Friend's Tax Case

By Drew Pearson

L. Hunt, famous Texas oilman. The sale was made by a complicated lease arrangement. There was also a huge cattle dispersal sale.

Internal Revenue agents, investigating the transaction, came up with the charge that Senator Robertson owed the Treasury $800,000 in back taxes and penalties. This was no ordinary tax case. Many small taxpayers, found delinquent for much smaller amounts, have been prosecuted criminally and gone to jail.

However, ex-Senator Robertson had a friend in Washington, Senator Barrett. He appealed to Barrett for aid; Barrett intervened at the Treasury. The case against the ex-Republican Senator was never prosecuted. It was compromised. He got off with a compromise payment.

Quered by this column regarding his tax difficulties, Robertson refused to comment.

"I am no longer a public official," he said. "This is my own private business. There is nothing I care to say."

Reminded that any tax violation, even by a private citizen, is a public matter, the ex-Senator still refused to comment.

Robertson showed his appreciation of Senator Barrett however. He contributed $500 to his campaign fund.

Real Estate Congressman

Here is the backstage record of another Congressman who beats his breast about serving the public, but frequently serves his own pocketbook.

Congressman Joel T. Broyhill, elected by the densely populated Virginia suburbs just across the Potomac River from Washington, is a big real estate promoter. He also served as a member of the commission appointed to pick a site for a cultural center for the nation's Capital.

This commission held long discussions, consulted many experts. Architectural firms, including Pereira and Luckman of Los Angeles, Giffels and Vallet of Detroit, Holabird & Root & Burge of Chicago, Mac Kie and Kambath of Houston, Reynolds, Smith and Hills of Jacksonville, with Shepley, Bullfinch, Richardson and Abbott of Boston, came from all over the country to give their advice free.

Finally a site near the Lincoln Memorial on the banks of the Potomac was picked for the cultural center. It then became necessary to get a bill through Congress to confirm this decision. Strangely, Congressman Broyhill led the fight in Congress against the site. He was determined, bitter, unrelenting.

What Broyhill did not tell his colleagues, however, was that the Peoples Life Insurance Company wanted to build its headquarters on exactly the same land to be used by the cultural center. It was determined to have the cultural center located somewhere else.

And what Broyhill further did not tell Congressmen was that he had borrowed $50,000 from Peoples Life Insurance. Serving his own pocketbook interest, he managed to defeat the bill.

Note — Broyhill also voted against investigating the big bankers and against public housing. It happens that he and his family are in the housing development business, have made a fortune in Virginia real estate, public housing competes. They also borrow from the banks. The bankers didn't want to be investigated. Broyhill helped to see that they weren't.

Politico-Go-Round

Ike had hoped to keep his barnstorming speeches on a high political level, not engage in sock 'em-rock 'em tactics. He changed his mind after talks with Nixon and Postmaster General Summerfield. The latter was even more vigorous than Nixon. He argued that in order to satisfy the Old Guard, the President would have to take off the gloves and use bare knuckles.

About That Smoke

By Bob Considine

ROME—There was a cartoon in a Roman newspaper the other day showing the Sistine Chapel's burning stove sitting in a doctor's chair and looking very unhappy about the diagnosis. The doctor is saying: "Lack of appetite. Dizzy head. Loss of memory. These symptoms are clear. You smoke too much!"

Smoke has been discussed here more since last Sunday than any other topic. The confusing vapors which rose from that slender chimney jutting out a window of the world's most famous chapel replaced Gina Lollobrigida as Rome's chief conversation piece.

We continued our research into the origins of papal smoke signals Wednesday. L'Osservatore Romano was a great help. So was John Casserly, our Rome correspondent, and Father Michael Mayor of the Philippines, who is studying at the Vatican.

Seems that for centuries the sight of smoke rising from the voting room of a papal conclave had only one meaning—no pope had yet been chosen. It didn't matter what shade it was. Smoke simply meant the burning of ballots and attendant memoranda and that was that. It was actually not until 1939 when Cardinal Pacelli became pope on the third ballot that the Vatican cooperated with the myth which had gathered credence through the years that black smoke meant disagreement and white smoke success.

In very olden times the ballots were burned in an open-fire pit believed to have been placed in the center of the balloting room or place. The stove appears to have come into use in 1539 to keep the smoke from fogging the great paintings of Michelangelo in the Sistine Chapel. The chimney might have been added at the conclave of 1565. Whatever the real facts, the white ever since then has looked to the smoke over that fabulous chapel as the sign—as misinterpreted in the past as it was last Sunday of the outcome of the secret voting.

The semi-official Vatican paper blamed "foreigners and journalists" for creating what it casually calls the "butterfly" myth of black versus white smoke—though the paper neglects to add "the myth became such solid fact that the cardinals laid in a supply of black and white smoke bombs Monday.

As the population of Rome increased with the Renaissance, the crowds which gathered outside the walls of conclaves increased. Newcomers to the Eternal City were apparently first to spread the tale that much could be learned from the color of the smoke. But it plainly was never an exact science. For example, on February 21, 1878, St. Peter's Square was emptied at 12:30 p.m. when smoke appeared at the tip of the chimney. At 1 p.m., however, the big doors of the loggia over the entrance to the basilica were opened and out stepped one of the greatest popes in the history of the church—Leo XIII. Another vote had been taken after 12:30. Simple as that. Leo's first blessing to the city and the world was given to an all but deserted square.

No smoke, black or white, immediately preceded the appearance on the loggia in 1903 of Pius X, who has since been canonized. He had been chosen by the cardinals as a gesture of defiance to Emperor Franz Joseph, who had tried to dictate the selection of one of his favorite cardinals, but Pius X turned out to be one of the jewels of the papacy.

The conclave that produced Benedict XV, successor to Pius X, created much advance confusion for which "new families" were to be blamed — L'Osservatore Romano scolded. It added "since then newspapermen from abroad have created the myth of the white and the black smoke." The paper also recalled a false report on the election of Pius XI in 1922. "The news spread that the Pope had been elected because somebody had said 'The clear smoke, not black, means an election has been reached'; a big crowd came running toward the square but had to go back disappointed."

The paper's historians concluded:

"With the passing of the years the butterfly term of the white and the black began to widen more and more. In the press and in several books written by people who knew the Vatican only as visitors, this butterfly term crossed the oceans and reached the farthest regions of the earth."

Sure did.

Social Security Payments Helped During Recession

One of the factors which helped soften the impact of the recession in the Cumberland area was the payment of more than half a million dollars monthly in Social Security benefits.

More than half this amount, $350,000, is paid to residents of Allegany County. The total paid monthly to beneficiaries in the area was $375,000. There are approximately 12,000 persons in Allegany, Garrett, Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant counties who receive benefits.

The total amount in benefits will increase by $25,000 starting in January, 1959 due to recent amendments to the Social Security law. All beneficiaries, of course, will receive a boost in their payments.

In addition, the new categories of payment to claimants and prospective claimants will further increase the amount of benefits paid monthly to the people of the area served by the Cumberland district office.

Additional monies will also be forthcoming and in fact, are already being paid in some cases. The part of the amendments dealing with the disability program declared among other things that those receiving disability benefits would receive their full amount from social security regardless of whether or not they were receiving other payments from Federal or State sources on account of disability. This will add considerably to the beneficiaries affected. The largest economic gain under the disability changes will be in the payments to the families of those receiving disability benefits. Currently, wives, mothers, and children; and in some cases husbands of disabled persons are entitled to draw social security benefits on the basis of the disabled persons wage record. This factor will add thousands of dollars to the monthly social security amount being paid in the area.

Also changes dealing with the payment to disabled children, to parents even when a wife or child survive the wage earner, and the elimination of the waiting period in regard to adopted children will again add to the Social Security payments.

Due to the many and varied additions to social security in just a few years time, the money coming into this service area, along with the whole country, from social security has increased tremendously.

The aforementioned figures showing that by January 1959, about $600,000 will be paid monthly to social security recipients, might be contrasted to figures of December 31, 1955—just three short years ago—the payment to all beneficiaries residing in our service area was $369,000.

In the category of old-age insurance benefits, current figures disclose that over 55 per cent of persons over 65 years of age are receiving Social Security benefits. When it is remembered that many persons over 65 are still not retired, this figure indicates the almost universal effect of Social Security.

Due to the population alignment, the bulk of money naturally is being paid into Allegany County. In fact, well over half of the total is received by Allegany County residents; or more precisely, $350,000 is received monthly by retired wage earners and their families, or the dependents of deceased workers. A breakdown by counties of the amount of money currently being expended in each category follows:

	Allegany	Garrett	Mineral	Grant	Hampshire	Hardy
Old age	$225,000	$25,000	$45,000	$15,000	$15,000	$15,000
Widow or Husband	40,000	5,000	7,000	3,000	3,000	3,000
Child's	40,000	5,000	7,000	3,000	3,000	3,000
Widow or Widower	35,000	3,500	5,000	2,000	2,000	2,000
Mothers	14,000	2,100	3,000	1,200	1,200	1,200
Parents	600	140	500	200	200	200
Disability	8,000	1,700	3,000	850	450	450

*This figure reflects only the figures received by the disabled wage earner. The effects of the 1956 amendments are not reflected.

Democrats Rally Today

The final rally of the Allegany County Democratic Party before the election Tuesday will be held today at 8 p. m. in the Cumberland Eagles Home.

Simon F. Reilly, county campaign chairman, said the emphasis will be placed on the county candidates, each of whom will make a short talk.

Reilly pointed to increased vigor in the party as evidenced in the many rallies conducted throughout the county in this campaign.

Tonight's meeting will have as speakers these candidates: George A. Boch, Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Graydon S. Dunlap, Edward P. Flanagan and William Walsh for House of Delegates; Howard P. Loughrie for sheriff; and William J. Brode, John Tucker Mason and John J. Rowan for county commissioner.

The session will be for Democratic election officials, precinct leaders and poll workers, together with all Democrats and Republicans who are interested, Reilly added.

Final instructions and supplies for Tuesday's all-out effort will be distributed to the workers. Music and refreshments will be available.

STORE EXPLOSIVES SAFELY

LONDON (UPI) — The safe-breakers used a safe deposit box to store their gelignite and detonators, it was disclosed Wednesday. Picked up on safe-breaking charges, the two began to worry what might happen if the box was handled carelessly by some bank employee so they told police about their cache. Detectives broke the news to the bank manager and then gingerly removed four pounds of gelignite and 75 detonators.

Colts, Browns Top Offensive Teams In Pro Grid Loop

Undefeated Teams Rush To Playoffs

Baltimore Got 390 Yards Against Skins; Cards Skid To Third

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The unbeaten Baltimore Colts and all-winning Cleveland Browns, rushing pell mell toward a climactic championship meeting, are the top offensive teams in the National Football League.

The latest NFL team statistics show the Colts, leaders in the Western Division, tops offensively by 25 yards over the Browns, king pins of the Eastern Division.

Baltimore gained 390 yards last week in way-laying Washington and now has picked up 967 yards on the ground and 1,081 in the air, for a total of 2,048. Cleveland, winner over the Chicago Cards last Sunday, have rolled up 1,311 yards rushing and 712 passing for a total of 2,023.

Skid Into Third
The Chicago Cardinals, leaders last week in total offense, skidded to third with a 1,921 yard total. Los Angeles is fourth on 1,667 yards.

Cleveland, led by the sensational Jimmy Brown, tops all 12 teams in rushing with its 1,311 yards. Brown, individual ground gaining leader, has netted 815 yards of this himself. Baltimore's 967 is good enough for second place with Washington third (873) and the Cards, 1,081 to 1,077. Green Bay is third with 1,045 and Philadelphia fourth on 990 yards.

In scoring, Baltimore has a three point lead over Cleveland, 178-175. The Chicago Bears have 138 and Los Angeles 136.

Leads In Punting

Washington leads for the second straight week in punting with a 46 yard average on 21 punts to 43.6 for Detroit, 43.4 for Green Bay and 43.2 for Philadelphia.

The best defense against rushing belongs to the New York Giants, who have allowed opponents 2.8 yards per carry in 172 efforts. Baltimore and Philadelphia each have yielded 3.7 yards and the Bears 3.9.

On defense against passing, the Cards and Baltimore are tied, each allowing 43.8 per cent of opponents passes to be completed. San Francisco's percentage on pass defense is 49.3, and Cleveland's 49.6.

Calhoun Victor Over Suzina

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rory Calhoun, of White Plains, N.Y., a leading middleweight contender, won a unanimous 10-round decision Wednesday night over tough, durable Franz Suzina of Bremen, Germany. Each weighed 164½.

The 24-year-old Calhoun, hoping for a crack at the middleweight crown worn by Ray Robinson, stalked the shorter Suzina all the way. He piled up points at long range, successfully tied Suzina up in the clinches and won by a wide margin even though he lost one round for low blows.

There were no knockdowns, although Calhoun slipped to the canvas four times. Once, in the second, he ended up on the seat of his trunks in the middle of the ring.

Referee Joe Palmer took the seventh round from Calhoun for low blows. He warned him twice during that round, and twice earlier in the bout.

Palmer scored it 7 to 2 for Calhoun with one round even. Judge Harold McGrath made it 9 to 1 and Judge Charles di Salva 8 to 2.

The Associated Press card was 7 to 3 for Calhoun.

Milwaukee Bowler Rolls Set Of 843

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee's Ray Schanen blasted an 843 Tuesday night for the nation's highest bowling score this season and 16th highest of all time.

He rolled games of 290, 290 and 264 in the Greater All-Star League.

The previous high this season was 825 by Dick Selgo of Fort Clinton, Ohio. The all-time national record is 886 by Ollie Brandt of Lockport, N.Y., in 1939.

London Cry Is Victorious In Cambridgeshire

Carries Heaviest Impoit In History

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—London Cry won the 116th Cambridgeshire Handicap Wednesday carrying 131 pounds, the heaviest impost for a winner in the history of the race.

The 4-year-old colt finished half a length before Falls of Shin in the mile and one-eighth race to give his trainer, Sir Gordon Richards, a rare double in one of England's biggest betting events.

Aggressor, the 4-1 favorite, finished third, two lengths back of Falls of Shin, who started at 25-1. London Cry was 22-1, and his victory saved British bookmakers from possible disaster. The Cambridgeshire and the Cesarewitch, won by the favored Morecambe Oct. 15, are hooked up in the autumn double.

It was estimated that a victory by Aggressor, or Babur, second choice at 7-1, would have cost the bookmakers about five million dollars. Morecambe was the Cesarewitch favorite, and was coupled with Aggressor and Babur in heavy autumn double wagering. London Cry-Morecambe doubles paid 600-1, but there were only a few of them.

The final Irish Hospital Sweepstakes of the season also was based on the result of the Cambridgeshire.

Thirty-three horses started and London Cry didn't shove his nose in front until the last three-sixteenths of a mile in the race run over the famed "L" shaped Rowley course.

London Cry's time was 1:33 4-5, and he netted a purse of $8,506, just a bit less than Sobell paid for the colt at the 1957 Newmarket, December sales.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland football Coach Tommy Donnan pronounced his squad in good physical shape, ran them through their last fullspeed scrimmage Wednesday in preparation for the South Carolina game here Saturday.

The Terps concentrated on goal line defense and offense and filled the air with football on pass plays. Maryland will be looking for its second victory of a dismal season which has seen five losses.

Clarence Doser Takes PGA Title

Mid-Atlantic Golf Crown Won By 146

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Clarence Doser of Washington won his second Middle Atlantic PGA Golf Championship Wednesday, firing a one-over-par 72 for a 36-hole total of 146.

Doser's round was an example of precision putting. The Woodmont Country Club professional also battled a terrific breeze.

Doser began the round in a four way tie for the lead. He was in front after nine holes and then scrambled out of all sorts of trouble to edge Clare Emery of Washington by two strokes. Emery finished with a pair of 74s for 148.

This was the second straight year Emery came in second in the tournament. He tied Charlie Bassler of Baltimore at the end of the regulation 36 holes last year, only to lose in a playoff.

Bassler finished third with 151. Andy Gibson of Towson, Md., was fourth with 152. Walter Romans of Baltimore was fifth at 153.

Doser's victory was worth $400. He also won the Middle Atlantic PGA Golfer of the Year Trophy for finishing the year with a 73-stroke average in 26 tournaments. He used only 30 putts in the final round of this tournament.

Ortiz Moves Up Spot Among Lightweights

Classed As No. 3 Contender By Ring

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Ring magazine's latest ratings today placed young Carlos Ortiz of New York in a challenging position for the lightweight crown—at No. 3 among contenders.

In view of that position and the promise of riches in the offing, it will be mighty interesting to see whether Ortiz keeps today's London promise of waiting six months before challenging.

Puerto Rican-born Ortiz was boosted a notch from fourth to third because of his impressive 10-round decision over England's Dave Charnley at London Tuesday night.

Only Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., at No. 1, and Duilio Loi of Italy are now above Ortiz. But Lane was beaten by champion Joe Brown in a title fight at Houston, Tex., last July 23 and Loi persistently has refused to come to the United States for a title bout.

Those two facts make Ortiz an attractive challenger. At 22, he has lost but one of his 30 fights. And Puerto Rican fans, the hottest sports followers in New York, would jam Madison Square Garden to see him challenge for the 135-pound crown.

Two English heavyweights are rated among the top 10 contenders for the first time in more than a decade. They are Brian London and Henry Cooper. They broke into the ratings by upsetting high-ranked Americans. London, now seventh, stopped Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach. Willie dropped a notch to fourth. Cooper outpointed Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., who sank a peg to third.

Don Jordan of Los Angeles, who will challenge welterweight champion Virgil Atkins at Los Angeles Dec. 5, was named "fighter of the month" because of his contenders' victory over Mexican Gaspar Ortega.

Tony Anthony of New York replaced Harold Johnson of Philadelphia as top light-heavyweight contender, and Piero Rollo of Italy replaced Leo Espinosa of Philippines as top bantamweight contender.

Roberts Is Voted Comeback Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, a 22-game loser who battled back to regain his position as one of baseball's leading pitchers, Wednesday was voted the National League comeback player of the year for 1958.

Roberts was named on 59 of 98 ballots by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh finished second with 21 votes followed by Bobby Thomson of Chicago, who collected 13.

Roberts, a right-hander, won 17 games and lost 14 the past season. His earned run average was 3.27. In 1957 he had a 10-22 record with an era of 4.07.

Changes Are Likely In Aussie Net Team

BRISBANE (AP)—Changes are likely in Australia's Davis Cup pairings after the disappointing form of Ashley Cooper and Neal Fraser in the semifinals of the Queensland State Tennis Championships Wednesday.

Although they won in straight sets, the cup doubles pair was fully extended by Bob Howe and Don Candy 11-9, 10-8, 6-3.

Mal Anderson and Rod Laver beat Roy Emerson and Bob Mark 6-1, 6-3, 13-11 in the other semifinal.

Navy And Notre Dame Play 32nd Of Series

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Collegiate football's longest unbroken sectional rivalry will be resumed in Baltimore Saturday when Navy (14-1) and Notre Dame (3-2) meet for the 32nd battle of the series which has gone uninterrupted since 1927.

Initiated by Navy's Jonas Ingram and Knute Rockne of the Fighting Irish the rivalry has been one of the most colorful in football history despite the wide edge held by Notre Dame through the years. The Irish have won 24 to Navy's six and there has been one tie. However, the Midshipmen have taken the last two outings.

Coach Ed Schwarz said last night he, 36 players, managers Dave Beard and Jimmy Valentine, and Coach Paul Cuba will make the trip by school bus.

South Elevens Lead Nation With Defense

Auburn Is Rated Best Defensively

By The Associated Press
When Southern football teams give ground, they give it very, very grudgingly.

So much so that the national leaders in virtually all the defensive departments are teams in the Deep South, notably in Alabama and Mississippi.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics reveal that Auburn leads in total defense, as it has done since the middle of the 1957 season; Mississippi has allowed the least scoring, and Alabama is the new leader in pass defense and punting.

Only Princeton and Tulsa have cracked this monopoly in Southern defensive leadership. Princeton is the punt return leader with an average of 19.6 yards a run-back. Tulsa has averaged 30.6 on kickoff returns.

Maryland ruined Auburn's hold on the three major defensive measures by completing 11 passes for 136 yards against the Tigers, knocking Auburn from the lead in pass defense.

Auburn's margin in total defense still is substantial, however. The Tigers have permitted opponents an average of only 108.6 yards a game. Second-place Mississippi State has given up 154 yards a game.

Auburn has allowed only 45.6 yards a game rushing to 69.2 for second-place Tulsa. Alabama has permitted only 45 yards a game by passing to 48.8 yards for Iowa State, second.

Mississippi has allowed only an average of 4.3 points a game. Auburn has allowed 4.4 points. Oregon, which had allowed a total of only 12 points in four games, last Saturday dropped to a tie for 10th when it yielded 23 points to California. Alabama now leads in both punting and pass defense, and Boston College has permitted the lowest percentage of completions—236.

Charles Suspension Appears Imminent

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Boxing Supervisor Alton Erickson said Wednesday that if he follows customary policy former heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles will be suspended.

Indefinite suspension of the former titleholder was recommended by Deputy State Boxing Commissioner Sammy George after Charles made a poor showing in a fight Monday night in Dallas when he was knocked out in the sixth round by Texas light-heavyweight champion Donnie Fleeman.

Erickson said he customarily follows recommendations of a deputy commissioner. But he pointed out in this instance he had not had opportunity to talk with George nor investigate the situation.

W.Va. Tech Regains Rushing Leadership

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia Tech vaulted back into first place as rushing leader in the West Virginia Conference last week, mainly on the strength of its showing against Fairmont.

In beating the Falcon 23-0 Tech increased its average rushing yardage to 257, compared to 235.4 by Shepherd, last week's leader. Tech also remained on top in total offense, gaining 302 yards a game and on total defense, yielding 110 yards, and rushing defense, allowing but 74.4 yards a game.

The leader in pass defense was Potomac State. The Catamounts have given up only 32.2 yards a game.

Northwestern Picked To Beat Ohio Staters

Navy Is AP Choice To Top Notre Dame

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1958 college football season is a wild gal-flightly, fickle and drunk on upsets. Now that she's tasted the heady wine of surprise, what reason is there to believe she'll change?

We took some fliers last week (Pitt, South Carolina, Rice) but not enough for 33-17 and 660.

More upsets forthcoming: Syracuse 21, Pitt 14; Pittsburgh, after its titanic tie with Army, suffers a letdown, also looks to Notre Dame.

Navy 19, Notre Dame 15: Joe Tranchini back in top throwing form; Irish still reeling from two defeats.

Northwestern 13, Ohio State 7: Those irrepressible sophomores continue to surprise.

Stanford 14, Southern California 13: The Indians' excellent material just begins to jell.

Louisiana State 27, Mississippi 14: Billy Cannon tries to prove the Tigers really are No. 1.

Texas Christian 21, Baylor 8: Billy Gault's backfield shifts pay dividends.

Texas 14, Southern Methodist 12: Teams don't bounce back from bad lickings, except in the Southwest Conference.

Army 40, Colgate 0: Even then, Coach Earl Blaik opens the gates of mercy.

Iowa 20, Michigan 7: The Hawkeyes end the long jinx of never having won at Michigan; Wolverines shaken by campus gambling probe.

Colorado 15, Oklahoma 13: The men from the mile-high climate have waited a long time for this one.

Auburn 7, Florida 0: The Plainsmen's rugged defense preserves a long unbeaten streak.

Duke 13, Georgia Tech 7: Bill Murray's Blue Devils are coming fast; Tech lacks oldtime speed.

Oregon State 18, California 15: The Golden Bears are temporarily derailed in their drive for the Rose Bowl.

Washington Wins Overtime Contest

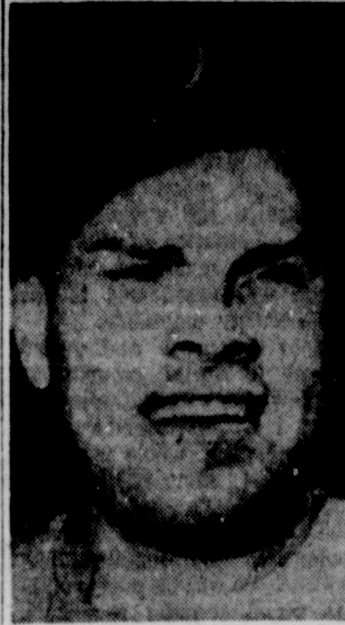

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Washington College needed two overtime periods today to preserve its undefeated soccer record with a 3-1 Mason-Dixon Conference victory over Western Maryland.

Western Maryland's Green Terrors tied the regulation game at 1-1 when right halfback Jim Gibson drove in from the left for a goal with only six minutes, two seconds remaining.

In the second of two five-minute overtimes, the visiting Shoremen picked up one goal, by center forward Bob Bragg, on a penalty. They scored again, with eight seconds remaining, on Dick Skinner's unassisted play. Bragg had scored Washington's first goal in the second period.

The victory was Washington College's fifth against two ties. Western Maryland is now 2-4.

Washington 0 1 0 0 0 2-3
W. Maryland 0 0 0 1 0 0-1
Scoring: Washington — Bragg 2, Skinner, W. Maryland — Jim Gibson.

COME BACKER—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies hurler yesterday was voted the National League comeback player of the year for 1958. He had a 17-14 won-lost record for the season compared to 10-22 in 1957.

Unheralded Rose Trellis Captures Rich Yankee Handicap

Stretch Run Wins $61,000 Suffolk Event

Pulls Away In Heavy Running Under Able Handling Of Adams

BOSTON (AP)—Rose Trellis, an unheralded gelding sent postward only four previous times this year, went to the outside with a tremendous stretch surge to win the $61,000 Yankee Handicap before a crowd of 17,846 Wednesday at Suffolk Downs.

Carrying the colors of Foxcatcher Farms owned by William du Pont Jr. of Wilmington, Del., Rose Trellis let Backbone and Warhead, a couple of favorites, battle it out most of the way before making his big move in the 23rd running of the mile and an eighth test for 3-year-olds.

He churned through the heavy going under the guidance of jockey Larry Adams and caught the tiring Backbone with an eighth of a mile to go. Martins Rullah, another heavily backed campaigner in the field of 12, also passed Backbone in the final stages.

Rose Trellis pulled away to a three length victory. Martins Rullah had a length and a half day fight on Backbone. Elegante was fourth, another half length behind. Warhead, the 2 1/2-1 favorite, duelled down the back stretch with Backbone, but wound up eighth.

Rose Trellis covered the route, soaked by seven straight days of rain, in 1:55 2-5, far off the track record of 1:48 1-5, set by Whirlaway in 1942.

He paid $18.80, $10.00 and $6.20. Martins Rullah paid $5.20 and $4.00, while Backbone returned $3.20 to show.

The victory was worth $39,650.

Two Michigan Athletes In Gambling Ring

Fullback, Cagers' Captain Suspended

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Six University of Michigan Students, two of them star athletes, were arraigned in Municipal Court on Wednesday on charges of being members of a football card gambling ring.

Police estimated the weekly "take" of the ring at about $10,000, but other sources said the amount was closer to $3,500.

Pleas of innocent were entered for all six defendants and they were released on $150 bond each pending trial next month. Tony Rio, Michigan's No. 1 fullback, and Jack Lewis, captain of the Wolverine basketball team, were among those arraigned. Both athletes are from Chicago and live together in the same dormitory.

The others involved in the gambling ring were Mike Dodgson, Grand Rapids, Mich. Nick Mitea, Ecorse, Mich., Carl Riseaman, of Detroit, and Durwood Collins, of Houston, Texas.

A seventh student named in a warrant, John Miller, of Utica, Mich., did not appear at the arraignment and attempts to locate him at the college failed.

All seven students were charged with engaging in an illegal occupation in distributing cards for $1 each on which were printed the names of colleges playing football games on the coming weekend, and carrying a predicted point spread. Purchasers selected their choices based on the point spread and odds were paid to those who picked four or more winners. The more winners picked, the higher the odds.

The charge is a misdemeanor, conviction of which could mean a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and/or $100 fine.

Municipal Court Judge Francis O'Brien set trial dates for the defendants between Nov. 12 and Nov. 20.

Both Rio and Lewis were suspended from their squads pending outcome of the charges against them.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The odds are stacked against those two sons of ex-Yankee Charley Keller who hope to be one of those dotting dads with youngsters following their footsteps to stardom in the major leagues.

More often than not, the second generation falls far short of the record racked up by the old man. There are notable exceptions including the still active Ray Narleski of the Cleveland Indians and Don Mueller, the ex-Giant now with the Chicago White Sox.

Keller has a pair of young actors going for him—outfielder Charley, Jr., 19, and shortstop Don, 18—recently signed by the Yankees for a twirl down on the farms.

It'll take a lot of doing for the kids to come up to the old man. Charley, Sr., was a Yankee outfielder for 11 seasons and finished up at Detroit with a career average of .286.

Prodigious Clouts

Power not average was Keller's forte and his prodigious home run clouts, coupled with a beetle-browed appearance, earned him the nickname of "King Kong."

But many a famous father whose sons came up to the majors watched the boy fall short of expectations.

Ed Walsh, Jr., Eddie Collins, Jr., Joe Wood, Jr., Jim Bagby, Jr., Earle Brucker, Jr., and Oscar Grimes, Jr., were among those who couldn't match the record of their dads.

The late Walter Johnson's son couldn't make it and Ty Cobb's son spurned baseball entirely.

Among players still active, Narleski and Mueller have been the most successful sons of ex-big leaguers.

Mueller was a dangerous spray hitting pitcher.

Famed NYAC Gave Winged Foot Name

Winged Foot Golf Club, Mamaroneck, N. Y., where the U. S. Open will be played June 11-13, 1959, derives its name from the New York Athletic Club, which has the winged foot (of Mercury), denoting speed, as its emblem. Founders of Winged Foot GC in 1921 all were members of the NYAC. Today the golf club and the athletic club have no connections whatever except sentimental ties.

Boxer Treated For Injuries

Grant Pounded Hard In Bout With Olson

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Don Grant, pounded to a pulp in Carl (Bobo) Olson's boxing comeback, underwent treatment in Providence Hospital Wednesday for a brain concussion and kidney injuries.

Attendants said the condition of the 25-year-old Los Angeles fighter was good.

Olson, a former middleweight champion now fighting as a light heavy, had the Tuesday night fight all to himself until Referee Frankie Carter stopped the slaughter in the seventh round.

Bobo didn't see any of his purse. His $3,000 end of the gate was attached by the federal income tax people who still have a decision pending in a tax suit.

The fight was Olson's first in 14 months, but it wasn't much of a test for the 30-year-old fighter. He didn't draw a deep breath in pummeling his opponent.

Cord of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and expressions of sympathy at the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Lavada E. Murphy. We wish to thank Rev. W. B. Orndorff, the choir of the First Baptist Church, Westport, Rev. E. W. Weidner, those who sent flowers, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, those who sent cards and all friends and neighbors for their wonderful response. We are deeply grateful.

Coren On Bridge

Both vulnerable. North deals. fifth heart and two for the sixth, giving him an adjusted value of 13 points.

West led the king of clubs and East followed with the deuce, plainly recognizable by West as his lowest. East hoped that the discouraging card would induce partner to shift, and inasmuch as East had failed to support spades he hoped that partner would shift to that suit.

West, however, chose to lead the 5 of diamonds. Declarer won and led a trump. East won with the ace and cashed the ace of clubs, but that was the last trick for the defense since declarer could obtain spade discards on dummy's long diamonds.

East remonstrated with his partner for not having shifted to a spade. West should have known, he contended, that East couldn't have anything in diamonds to make the lead of that suit profitable.

While West had not proved to be very resourceful, it is our view that East was guilty of contributory negligence. At trick one East could have assured the collapse of the contract by overtaking the king of clubs and returning his singleton spade. When he wins the first heart trick he returns a club, and a spade return gives him the ruff which defeats the contract.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed higher, mostly steady to firm, Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up 1/4 to 1/2 cent; corn (old) up 1 to 1 1/2 cents; (new) up 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents; oats up 1/2 to 1 cent; rye up 1/2 to 1 cent; soybeans up 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents.

Best advances were scored in soybeans. There was continued short covering and scattered commission house buying. Brokers with Northwest connections sold the January delivery. Trade, however, was lighter than Wednesday.

Grains at outside markets were mostly firm. The range:

Mayor Cites Fire Hazards At Airport

Urges Frequent Inspections

Mayor J. Edwin Keech yesterday complained about apparent fire hazards existing at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

At the close of an inspection at the airport, Mayor Keech sent Warren G. Mullenax, manager of the airport, a brief letter in which he suggested that Mr. Mullenax should inspect all hangars periodically so that they will be kept in proper condition.

Mayor Keech wrote as follows: "Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker brought to my attention and I personally inspected the airport so that I know that some of the tenants of the hangars do not keep the same in proper condition. We noticed old paint cans, a bale of straw, greasy rags, paper cartons, etc., all of which are of a highly inflammable nature.

"It is felt that you should inspect all hangars periodically so that the same will be kept in proper condition. To say the least, the 'housekeeping' at the hangars inspected was very bad."

There was a fire at the airport the night of September 7 in which a small Piper Cub plane and several thousand dollars worth of parts, tools and equipment were destroyed.

The flames spread rapidly through the aircraft maintenance shop through grease, oil, acetylene equipment, gasoline and paint in the shop, firemen said.

PSC Approves New Bus Line Operation Here

BALTIMORE (AP) — Purchase of Cumberland's transit operation by Queen City Bus Lines Inc., an organization of former drivers, was formally approved by the Public Service Commission Wednesday.

The PSC acted at the conclusion of a 30-minute hearing.

Queen City took over Cumberland Transit Lines Oct. 14, submitting the only bid — $7,500 — in Allegany County Circuit Court. Cumberland Transit had been in receivership since last August.

Queen City was represented at the hearing by W. Earle Cobey of Cumberland, its attorney, and Henry W. Price, one of the receivers of the old company.

The secretary-treasurer of Queen City, Laurence L. Grim, testified that the new firm could operate at a profit by effecting some economies. Some overhead costs of the old firm will not continue, they said, and drivers have agreed to forego some benefits under their union contract.

The company proposes to issue $15,000 worth of stock, half of it to cover the purchase price. The remainder, it was testified, will go for working capital and purchase of new equipment.

Queen City plans to buy four gasoline-powered buses that have been used in Detroit by a company switching to diesels, they said. It will cost about $500 apiece.

It was testified that the 23 buses taken over at the time of purchase were in very poor condition, but the new firm has made some repairs.

Young 'Detective' Meets Real One

City police detectives yesterday caught up with a "private detective" who reportedly has been playing hooky from school for the past two weeks. He is 14.

The detective bureau received a telephone call from a local woman who said the "private eye" had been at her door and asked why her son was playing hooky.

She called the school and learned her son was in class. Then she called police. Lieutenant James E. Van and Detective Thomas See began to investigate.

Detective See noticed the lad along Fulton Street and trailed him to Decatur Street. When he caught up with the boy he noticed a "private detective" badge fastened to the inside of the boy's coat. Detective See told the lad, "I'll show you a real one."

The boy was turned over to his sister and will await action of school authorities, police said.

Devereux Raps Tawes For Silence

BALTIMORE (AP) — James P. Devereux kept doggedly at his Democratic opponent for governor Wednesday with still another challenge to Millard Tawes to speak out on campaign issues.

The GOP candidate told a Women's Civic League meeting that Tawes' campaign "has been conducted on the level of the ward-heeler."

Tawes was scheduled to speak also, but he was substituted for by Clarence Long, who lost out in the senatorial primary to Thomas D'Alesandro. Long since has joined the Democratic campaign team.

Outside the women's meeting, there was little activity among the front-running candidates. D'Alesandro visited a couple of shopping centers, while Tawes and Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Republican, running for re-election against D'Alesandro remained quiet.

Devereux again criticized Tawes for his stand on a pay raise for teachers. Devereux said the 12 million dollars needed is not in the treasury.

Other general promises Tawes has made, the Republican candidate said, came from the Republican platform, not his own Democratic one.

"Mr. Tawes is welcome, of course, to the use of our platform in the preparation of his campaign statements," Devereux said. "Our platform, unlike his, was meant for public perusal."

"I wish, however, that he might somehow find enough courage to discuss some of the more controversial plans of our platform — such as oyster conservation, which he has avoided completely, and civil rights, on which he barely has scratched the surface with a mere promise of obedience to the law."

LaVale Firemen Are Called Out

Volunteer firemen of LaVale were called to the intersection of Lane Avenue and U.S. Route 40 last night at 8:10.

A passing auto apparently knocked over a kerosene warning lamp placed near road construction work. The fire was out on arrival.

Reed Disputes Democrat Plea For 'Sweep'

150 Attend Rally At Barton Armory

Speaking in behalf of the six Republican candidates for the House of Delegates at a GOP rally last night at the Barton Armory, Delegate Lester B. Reed took issue with the Democratic plea for a "clean sweep" in Allegany County.

Delegate Reed, a veteran of 20 years in the House of Delegates, told a crowd of about 150 cheering spectators that the Democratic candidates for county office have not raised a single issue in this campaign.

"The House of Delegates is an important legislative body for it approves all of the legislation affecting Allegany County and the entire state of Maryland," Delegate Reed said. "It is essential that the experienced GOP legislators be returned to Annapolis to represent the best interests of Allegany County."

McKay Sloan of Lonaconing, a member of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County, was called to speak twice. He first made a brief talk in which he urged the re-election of Sheriff Edward R. Muir.

Later in the program, Mr. Sloan returned to the rostrum to speak in behalf of the state-wide Republican candidates. Besides U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, who seeks re-election, they are James P. Devereux, for Governor; John A. Derr, for Comptroller, and Robert A. Wallace, for Attorney General. He also put in a plug for Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who seeks a fourth term in Congress from the Sixth Congressional District.

County Commissioner William A. Wilson gave a pledge to the county voters that the election of the three Republican candidates for county commissioner would assure continued good government for all of the citizens.

Delegate David J. Williams of Midland, who served as master of ceremonies, called upon two men to step into the limelight who he said have been working tirelessly behind the scenes in this campaign. He introduced Donald W. Mason, campaign chairman, and William E. "Scotty" Orr, campaign headquarters chairman.

The Barton rally, which was arranged by Forrest Mowbray, ended with refreshments.

Final GOP activity this week will be a shrimp feed at 8 p.m. Friday at the Lonaconing Republican Club. All county candidates will be on hand.

Baltimore Paper Backs Sen. Beall

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore News-Post and Sunday American Wednesday endorsed two Democrats and two Republicans for the four top statewide offices up for election next week.

The newspaper, in an editorial, recommended that state voters choose Republican J. Glenn Beall for re-election to the U. S. Senate.

Democrat J. Millard Tawes for governor, Republican John A. Derr for state comptroller and Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election as attorney general.

The same four candidates were endorsed by the Baltimore Sunpapers early this week.

The News-Post editorial said: "Our conclusions have been reached only after careful study."

In some cases the merits and shortcomings of candidates and proposals nearly balanced each other but in each instance we believe our choice is the best to serve the public welfare."

The newspaper described Beall's record as "generally good" and added that the GOP senator has worked for the best interests of the state "usefully if not spectacularly." Beall's opponent is Democrat Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

The choice for governor was a difficult one, the paper said, but Tawes "has a thorough familiarity with the complicated affairs of state government, much of which his opponent would have to learn by experience."

Opposing Tawes in the Nov. 4 general election is Republican James P. Devereux.

The editorial also praised Derr for his record as mayor of Frederick and strongly recommended Sybert, "an able lawyer whose rulings have been properly objective."

Tonight is "trick or treat" night in Ridgeley.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer is urging all the youngsters of the community to enjoy Halloween fun when they visit their neighbors' homes between 7 p. m. and 10 p. m.

However, he added, vandalism, including the soaping of windows, will not be tolerated. Mayor Fryer said those who are caught will be prosecuted.

Dr. Harold S. Malin, city, has been appointed sergeant-at-arms of the Maryland Chiropractic Association by the newly-elected president, Dr. Aaron Barad, of Baltimore.

334 Officials Named To Run County Election

134 Will Serve As Chief Judges

Some 134 chief judges and 200 machine judges will operate the 45 polling places in Allegany County for Next Tuesday's general election, according to Irvin J. Neat, Republican registrar and chief clerk of the County Board of Election Supervisors.

Mr. Neat said that in nearly all cases they are the same persons who served at the May 20 primary election. The judges received post card reminders before the primary notifying them of their appointment for the year, which obviously also would include the general election. A number of the judges are confused about this.

Judges Listed

As a result, Mr. Neat requested that all 334 judges be listed to eliminate the confusion.

Carscaden Implements New Rules

City Attorney William R. Carscaden yesterday took steps to implement the Monday action of the Mayor and City Council in adopting ordinances providing for new parking regulations and increased fines, which will go into effect November 15.

He first had letters written to Magistrates Morris Baron and J. Milton Dick in which were enclosed copies of the new ordinances.

One provision of the new regulations is that the city police magistrate, upon any conviction, shall not have the power to suspend or reduce the fine provided for violations in the ordinance.

Along with the letters to the magistrates went a memorandum to Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn. In that, Mr. Carscaden suggests that Chief Flynn instruct the desk sergeants on the amount of bonds to be collected for parking violations on and after November 15.

The bonds start at $1 for over-parking, go to $2 for illegal parking by a yellow line, and are $5 for parking by a red line or a "no stopping" area.

The city attorney also reminded Chief Flynn that he should instruct the police officers that on each summons issued they should make specific reference to the violation alleged.
